

Do not take away our choice. We have commercial-free cable television and why not the same for radio? There is room for both mediums. Consumers expect and demand more choices. It's time for radio to evolve to meet this challenge.